Soft Beds

Soft beds offer the highest level of conformance which helps to relieve pressure points, making this comfort feel perfect for those who sleep on their side. With more comfort layers than other beds, a soft bed conforms to your body position so there is no pressure on your hips or shoulders. If you prefer a luxurious feel, like you are sleeping on a cloud, then a soft bed is the perfect choice for you.

Medium Beds

As the name alludes, medium beds sit in the middle of the comfort spectrum and offer a lower level of softness, while not being as rigid as a firm bed. Combination sleepers who tend to change positions during the night prefer a medium feel as it provides a good balance of comfort and support, the perfect middle ground.
