International Designer Series

We believe that your outdoor space should be an extension of your home. The pieces you choose for your outdoor room should be characterised by quality and perfect finishes that compare to the finest interior furnishings.

Handpicked for you, our exclusive International Designer Series features a collection of outdoor lounge and dining pieces from the world's finest brands to create the most elegant gardens and terraces.

Founded in Barcelona on the shores of the Mediterranean Ocean, Otazen has been setting the standard for teak outdoor furniture for 25 years.

Their collection is inspired by the best in Mediterranean style and a dash of the rich traditions of Asia, with a simple ethos; capture the comfort and beauty of indoor furniture but give it outdoor durability.

They work closely with environmental organisations and communities to ensure an ecosystem- friendly harvesting a replanting process so all the teak used in the production of Otazen pieces is sustainable, coming from responsibly managed plantations.

HARBOUR[®]

Each piece of Harbour furniture represents a passion for design, detail and architecture.

The intricate details and expert craftsmanship has been carefully passed down from one generation to the next to ensure this passion remains at the core of everything they create. The fusion of traditional and modern elements in their design ensures they are at the forefront of outdoor furniture design and quality.

The brand's Australian roots influences their unique designs, incredible durability, and a deep sense of culture derived from the sometimes harsh Australian environment. All pieces are built to withstand a variety of climates and constructed using beautiful but durable materials which blend effortlessly into your outdoor space.

Harbour invite you to share in their legacy and take a step outside to enjoy the great outdoors with them.

Designed for the outdoors, Fast products are made in Italy and developed by experts with input from well-known international designers.

Their range of products allows you the pleasure of relaxation and comfort coupled with the special nature of aluminium; light, strong, rust free and resistant to the effects of weather.

The creative craftsmanship, high-precision and in depth knowledge of the material and production process has seen Fast become the leading company for die-cast aluminium furniture production. At the heart of their production process is Fast's own foundry where each piece is die cast then given a handcrafted and refined finish by highly skilled craftsmen.

It is this attention to detail that creates a harmonious balance between highly automated production systems and handcrafting. Advanced technology and traditional craftsmanship marry to create technically accurate products enriched by the value and beauty of that handmade touch.

HALO

— ESTABLISHED 1976 —

World leader in the luxury furniture and lifestyle market since 1976, Halo is renowned for their hand-crafted indoor furniture and accessories that service an appetite for exquisite pieces.

This summer season they introduce a new range for outdoor.

The Nassau is a chic sofa that features a thickly woven synthetic, all weather rattan frame with gentle curves around a strong aluminium frame. Atop the frame are striking oversized seat and back quick dry foam cushions which provide unparalleled comfort, perfect for lounging while you enjoy the New Zealand summer days.

All elements in the construction of this range have been carefully chosen to ensure they can perform well in the varying New Zealand climate and look great for many years.

As with any other Halo piece, the Nassau is easily recognised for its touching beauty, unusual contrast of materials, culturally rich inspirations and undeniable quality and craftsmanship.

The Calligaris brand is synonymous with Italian style making them a leader in the furniture industry.

They represent a guarantee of quality, care and creativity with design that is flexible and intelligent. Their distinct style is not shouted and leaves room for each person's own interpretation with each piece ready to enter the most diverse of homes.

Their iconic Skin chair is no exception to this. Incredibly sturdy yet incredibly lightweight, it is perfect for use both indoors and outdoors and harmonises with different styles to create truly unique environments.

made for shade

The leaders in sun-shade products, Jardinico, create elegant umbrellas with sleek lines and a slim nature that belies their sturdiness.

As technical forerunners they are known for their seamless handling systems and design each for ease of use, opening flawlessly with a simple twist of the hand. They also come with a max wind speed rating so you can rest assured that you have an umbrella which will stand up to whatever summer throws at it.

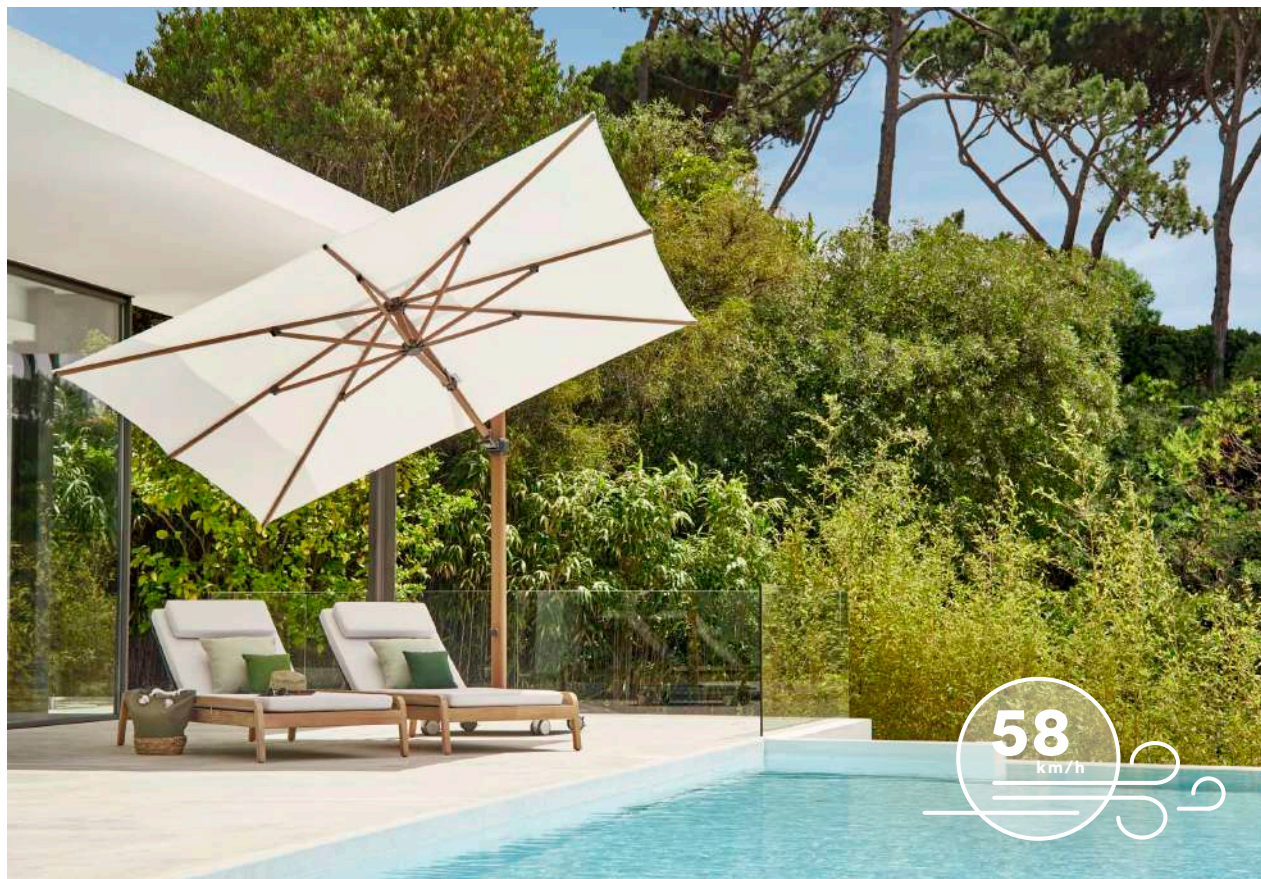

Jardinico umbrellas' contemporary design combined with their quality fabrics can be matched perfectly to your other outdoor elements and are executed flawlessly, right down to the finest detail, to last for years. They will not only protect you from the sun, they are also beautiful in form, the perfect finishing touch to your outdoor setting.

Jardinico umbrellas are 'made for shade'.

Sourcing their materials from around the world, New Zealand brand Devon's innovation and design speaks for itself.

With leading edge construction techniques that cut no corners and an emphasis on the most important aspect – a passion for outdoor living – incorporated into every piece they make.

They believe that quality outdoor furniture doesn't rest on the table top. As with most things, it's what's going on underneath that counts, and for all Devon Furniture this includes construction that copes with the stresses of weight and movement admirably.

Devon's core focus is on style, comfort, colour and durability, which they fulfil by using raw materials and methods of constructions which are as timeless as the designs themselves – surviving everything Mother Nature can throw at them.

The Portico range has been hand-picked by our own designers who have an incredible eye for beautiful design and top quality construction, as well as personal knowledge of the unique New Zealand outdoor lifestyle.

They focused on not only comfort and appeal but also the product's ability to perform in what can be very harsh summer conditions here in New Zealand when curating this collection.

Constructed using a range of different materials specifically made for the outdoors in designs that complement their surroundings, these products can guarantee a long life, looking good. Natural colours and textures are beautifully represented through teak, concrete and woven pieces.

The beautiful lounge and dining settings in appealing colours of the Portico range have been handpicked with the McKenzie & Willis customer in mind so there will definitely be something perfect for you.

Coast was born out of the desire to create a brand that would reflect New Zealand's unique quality of life with inspiration drawn from the rewards and challenges of life by the sea: simple, relaxing and beautiful, but also rugged and unforgiving.

Inevitably, their designs have concentrated on this too. Each piece focuses as much on materials and construction as on aesthetics and style, to ensure they are not only enduring, but timeless.

Coast draws parallels with the materials and processes used in yacht construction – they must be comfortable, even opulent, and yet withstand the harshest conditions.

An overwhelming majority of Coast products are hand made to the highest possible standard right here in New Zealand and each product that bears their brand is built for life, representing everyday outdoor luxury.

Finishing Touches

The line between indoor and outdoor spaces is being blurred with the outdoors evolving into second living and dining spaces.

Outdoor furniture is more refined, it no longer has a distinct look but instead mirrors the style of its indoor equivalents so the desire to visually connect indoor spaces to outdoor is an enduring trend and can be achieved by adding custom cushions and squabs in outdoor fabrics that link with your existing décor.

Our range of designer outdoor fabrics can introduce the colour and texture of your interior to your outdoor space; not only adding visual beauty but also creating comfort that is equal to your indoor spaces. These high-performing fabrics have been specifically designed to withstand the elements, making them not only stylish but durable, easy care and fade-resistant.

Your outdoor space needn't be boring, add personality and character to create your own oasis.

Below Seneca Tuscany Collection

Maximise your outdoor space with the flexibility of Luxaflex® outdoor products. Their worldwide search for the best solutions for our unique New Zealand conditions has ensured a range that delivers unparalleled quality, design and functionality.

Their all-weather EVO screens, with a sleek, durable and modern design, are a revolutionary solution that offers protection from solar heat, wind, rain and insects.

Their awnings are perfect for extending your valuable home entertaining space and constructed using the latest technology in fabrics that are UV, chemical and moisture resistant.

Luxaflex® outdoor products can be either operated manually or motorised by remote with the option of solar powering as well as the option of sun and wind sensors for even easier operation.

Designed to get the most from your outdoor spaces, whatever the weather.
